

Gender, Diplomacy and Peace

February 7, 2019

We invite you to an afternoon of talks and discussion on groundbreaking developments in diplomacy and peace processes with a focus on gender justice:

- What is a feminist foreign policy, and does it work?
- What difference does the entry of women into diplomacy make?
- How do international efforts address sexualized violence in conflict?

Thursday, February 7, 2019 at 13:00-17:00, in Dragonen, Sprängkullsgatan 19, Gothenburg.

Welcome!

		<h2>Program</h2>
 Ambassador Ann Bernes		Free lunch sandwiches served at 12:30 for those who preregister. Link to registration: https://pol.gu.se/aktuellt/Kalendarium/Aktuellt_detalj/?eventId=70136827015 .
	12:30	LUNCH sandwiches served to those registered
	13:00-13:15	Welcome	Ann Towns (GenDip) and Inger Skjelsbæk (University of Oslo)
	13:15-14:00	Experiences of pursuing a feminist foreign policy	Ann Bernes , Swedish Ambassador for Gender Equality and Co-ordinator of Feminist Foreign Policy
	14:00-14:20	Does it matter whether an ambassador is a man or a woman?	Birgitta Niklasson , GenDip, Docent in Political Science, University of Gothenburg
	14:20-14:40	Is diplomacy a gendered institution?	Ann Towns , GenDip, Professor of Political Science, University of Gothenburg
	14:40-15:00	Q&A
	15:00-15:20	COFFEE BREAK
 Prof Inger Skjelsbæk, University of Oslo	15:15-16:00	Conflict-Related Sexual Violence as knowledge field with an ethics of engagement	Inger Skjelsbæk , Professor, The Center for Gender Research of the University of Oslo, and deputy delegate of the Nobel Peace Prize Committee
	16:00-16:20	The fetishization of sexual violence in conflict? Tackling victimization and agency	Anne-Kathrin Kreft , GenDip, PhD Student in Political Science, University of Gothenburg
	16:20-16:40	Norwegian Peace Engagement: What's gender got to do with it?	Torunn Tryggestad , Director of the PRIO Centre on Gender, Peace and Security, Oslo, and Associate Professor in the Department of Psychology, University of Oslo.
	16:40-16:55	Q&A
	16:55-17:00	Concluding remarks	Ann Towns (GenDip) and Inger Skjelsbæk (University of Oslo)